

#architetta ELISA BURNAZZI / ITALY
Burnazzi Feltrin Architetti

Elisa Burnazzi graduated from IUAV (Venice) in 2001. She accomplished her training at Benzi Sirotti Ugolini, Rimini; Gueltrini Stignani, Ravenna; Land Studio, Milan. After working with these leading architects, in 2003, with Davide Feltrin, she co-founded the studio Burnazzi Feltrin Architects.

The firm won many awards, both national (e.g. finalist for the Renzo Piano Foundation Prize for Young Talent, 2010) and international (e.g. winners of the German Design Award 2017), and their works are published in prestigious books and journals.

Elisa is co-author of books regarding architectural history. In 2016 she was shortlisted for the international award "Women in Architecture Awards" category "Prize for Emerging Architecture"; she was also listed among the 15 women architect who have designed exceptional projects by Archdaily and she was invited to join the jury panel of American Architecture Prize (2016, 2017). Since 2015 she is member of the equal opportunities commission for Ordine degli Architetti della Provincia di Trento. Since 2017 she is teaching assistant of the course in urban design at Università degli studi di Trento.
